By BOB HIRD

Trailing by a 4-point deficit in the first half, a hustling Washington Hi quintet rallied to wallop the Los Gatos Wildcats, 52-41, last Friday on the local court.

It was the second straight S.C.V.A.L. triumph for the Huskies, who dropped their first two starts to James Lick and Fremont in overtimes.

The rebounding Huskies meet their biggest test tomorrow night when they travel to Campbell to face the undefeated Buccaneers.

The Bucs took over undisputed first place last week by beating the James Lick Comets, who had been tied with them, 50-40.

In winning the basketball flag last season, Campbell lost only one game. That was to the Washingtonians, and the Bucs will be out for revenge. They are loaded with height, with All-SCVAL Center Tom Hansen and Forward Ken Beth providing the scoring punch.

Center Allan Olk and ball-hawking Forward Raul Orozco led Clyde Voorhees' Huskies to victory last Friday. First Los Gatos sprinted to a 30-26 half-time lead, with Forward Jim Sparks tanking 11 points in the second period. Olk picked up 13 points in the first half to keep the Huskies in running.

The Huskies caught fire in the second half, both offensively and defensively. Off Olk's rebounding and shooting, and Orozco's ball-hawking and firing, the Malemutes pulled to a 39-36 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The Huskies recorded 13 more points in the final period while holding the Cats to a mere five digits.

Olk picked up 19 points to pace the Huskies, as well as garnering 25 rebounds. Orozco added 12 for the local cause, while Sparks paced the Cats with 16 points.

While Olk and Orozco provided the scoring, DeWayne Hill and Carl Von Euw drew plaudits for holding the Cats' high-scoring

WASHINGTON HI B'S TRIM CATS, LEAD PENNANT RACE

Coach Don Wolfe's lightweights remained on top of the SCVAL B race, as they walloped the Los Gatos Kittens 50-30 last Friday on the local court.

The Puppies turned what was supposed to be a close game into a rout and thus set the stage for their crucial with the Campbell lightweights tomorrow night.

The Buc Bs also are undefeated in league play with four wins in four starts.

Ray Orozco and Art Anchundo paced the Junior Huskies against the Kittens. They scored 17 and 16 points respectively. Don Martin added 11.

Tomorrow night's game gets underway at 7:30 o'clock.

Pups' box score:

Martin	4	3	11
Rangel	1	4	6
Orozco	8	1	17
Anchundo	7	2	16

PARRY SUIT SET FOR COURT TEST

Jack Parry's suit to compel the Niles Fire Commission to show him its books will have a preliminary hearing in Oakland on February 17.

Parry's request for a writ of mandamus will come before Superior Judge Ralph Hoyt on that date.

Commissioners John Brahmst, Leon Solon and Tony Alves are named in the action.

Parry said he is seeking facts to bolster his contention that the commission should not hire paid firemen—as it has said it would do—until results of a survey of Niles by the Board of Fire Underwriters are released in June.

Parry claims that this study will show that other factors, such as poor water mains and alarm systems, are keeping fire insurance rates high, and that employment of fulltime men to augment the volunteers will not lower the rates materially.

Meantime the commissioners have scheduled further discussion of the issue at their regular meeting next Tuesday night in the firehouse. Whether Parry will be on hand is not known.

Parry, a meat company executive, was ousted from his brief job as a volunteer fireman last October after reported differences with the commissioners.

THORNTON SCHOOL NAMED FOR NORRIS

Centerville's new $400,000 school on Thornton Avenue will be named the Allen G. Norris School, honoring the superior judge who was clerk of the school board for more than 26 years.

Trustees Mrs. Mary Rodrigues, Claire Lopez and Allan Walton made the announcement this week.

Supt. Tom Maloney said the school probably will be dedicated next September when its new wing is completed. When finished, the school will contain 11 classrooms, a multi-purpose room and office.

Judge Norris resigned last September when he was named to the Superior bench. He was succeeded by Lopez.

TIRED OF IT ALL? SEE W.U.H.S. VODVIL

Escapism — in other words a retreat to the land of hula girls, or maybe fandango dancers—is the theme of this year's Washington Hi "Vodvil," scheduled for February 17 and 18.

Ronald Lambert is faculty member in charge of the production, which is titled "Let's Get Away from It All."

The cast includes Connie Emmett, Logan Norris and Ron Schlosser, and many others.

Newark School Bond Election Next Tuesday

Electors of the Newark School District next Tuesday are asked to approve $200,000 in bonds and $450,000 in State aid to ease their overcrowded school situation.

Trustees and Supt. Jack MacGregor today stressed that an enrollment increase of almost 50 per cent since last June makes passage of both measures imperative.

The single grammar school, built to house 560 students, had 520 last June, 615 in September when school opened, and 760 today. First, second and third grades are on double sessions, and MacGregor fears the fourth, fifth and sixth grades may have them by June.

The bond money and State aid would be used to build a "junior high" of 12 to 14 classrooms on 14 acres adjoining the present school, to the northeast. This intermediate school eventually would house grades seven and eight.

The money also would go toward buying sites for one or more "neighborhood" schools to house kindergartens and grades one through six around the edges of town, in population centers.

"Classrooms only will be built at the 'junior high' site," MacGregor stresses. "The trustees recently voted against building a domestic science room and shop, as previously planned, until the pressure of growth is eased."

The State last November allocated funds to house a total of 825 children in the district. However since then enrollment has risen to 760, with another 100 expected by June, according to MacGregor, and with 125 houses under construction in Newark and 400 to 700 expected to start in the next few months.

The bonds must carry by a two-thirds margin, and the State aid by a simple majority. Polling place is the Newark School.

$31,025 BID FOR M.S.J. FIREHOUSE

George Bianchi, San Jose contractor, won the job of building the new Mission San Jose firehouse last week, with a bid of $31,025.

Bianchi was awarded the contract by the Board of Supervisors, after outbidding a dozen competitors. Next low bidder, at $32,500, was L. M. Potts of Newark. Bids ranged up to $37,294.

The Supervisors accepted two alternates which brought Bianchi's bid down from $31,900. These are (1) eliminating blacktop paving in the yard in favor of redrock; and (2) removing the old siren from the Vallejo Street firehouse to the Ellsworth Street site

EYE TO FUTURE

High School Trustees Agree to Seek Second Site; Location Awaits Survey

Trustees of Washington Union High School agreed Tuesday night they must seek a site for a second school.

No location was mentioned. Principal J. V. Goold suggested:

1. It will not be chosen until after a survey by impartial experts, and

2. It won't be purchased until the trustees see how much money is left out of their $1,500,000 bond issue after the new annex is built and furnished, and certain remodeling is carried out on the existing plant.

Goold estimated it would be six weeks before final costs are totaled.

He and his vice-principal, Irving Hird, pointed out that the present building and new annex will again be crowded to capacity within two or three years, and that another site must be picked soon.

"This spring," amended Board Chairman E. A. Quaresma. Hird agreed, and said the new school ought to be started in 1956.

Goold also forecast an increase in operating taxes of about 50 cents per $100 will be asked in the May 21 trustee election. This will be necessary to run the bigger school. He said he must hire 13 new teachers next fall.

The principal also said he intends to ask county principals, convening this week, to increase the school year to a minimum of 185 days to provide adequate education for youngsters.

Washington Hi now has a 180-day curriculum year, with teachers going an extra three days to institute.

"My idea is for school to start on August 30 and let out about June 7," Goold declared. Trustees backed him in his stand.

Larry Sylvia, superintendent, of grounds, reported construction of the $1,000,000 annex is proceeding on schedule in its second week.

Mitchell Named Niles C.C. Prexy; Trash Dump in Hills Gets Okeh

Howard Mitchell, retired lumberman and Niles rancher, on Tuesday was elected president of the Niles Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

Mitchell replaces C. W. Chrysler. Elected with him were Baine Leask, vice-president; Vernon Ellsworth, secretary; and Robert Blacow, treasurer.

The officers were elected by the newly-named Board of Directors: Mitchell, Blacow, Ellsworth, Dr. J. B. Enos, Elmer Marks and Dr. E. C. Grau.

A nominating committee, headed by Dr. Grau, earlier in the meeting proposed the directors, who were seated by vote of membtrs present. Dr. Grau pointed out that in the past, a nominating committee had brought in names of officers, who were then voted upon by the membership. But, he went on, this is illegal under California corporate procedure, and since the Niles Chamber of Commerce is a corporation, he suggested the procedure which was followed.

Ellsworth meantime noted that proposed amended bylaws for the Township Chamber had been received, and passed copies around for study, with a recommendation for a vote next week.

Judge E. A. Quaresma, chairman of a committee to investigate a projected trash dump in a canyon between Niles and Mission San Jose, reported:

1. The site technically isn't in the Niles School Distrcit, but

2. Since his group has investigated the site, it felt it could "suggest"—for edification of another Township Chamber committee—that the location is far enough removed from human habitation not to be objectionable.

GM AT MT. EDEN: RUMOR? FACT?

Unverified but persistent rumors today said General Motors Corporation has optioned a 159-acre tract in Mt. Eden to build a huge assembly plant.

According to the Associated Homebuilders Market Newsletter, GM made the deal through Van Bokkelen Cole Co., an Oakland contracting firm.

Reported location of the plant is next to the Southern Pacific tracks north of the San Mateo Bridge highway and west of Hesperian Boulevard.

CIVIL DEFENSE INSTALLS STRONGER RADIO

Strengthening its disaster communications, Alameda County Civil Defense Council last week completed installation of a 250-watt radio transmitter linking the county control center at San Leandro with the regional headquarters in Berkeley.

The installation is part of a coordinated civil defense communications system financed by the State and Federal offices of Civil Defense, according to Sheriff H. P. Gleason, county civil defense director.

Communities within the county's civil defense area will also be linked through the new disaster communications system, Gleason said. These include the cities of San Leandro, Hayward, Livermore and Pleasanton, and unincorporated communities in Eden, Washington, Murray and Pleasanton Townships.

The county's new transmitter operates on a frequency of 1750 kilocycles. It is the first radio communications unit linking the civil defense area directly with the region, aside from amateur operations, according to Frank Roach, communciations field representative for the State Office of Civil Defense.

Roach, Capt. C. Brower and Lt. Stanley N. Peterson of the sheriff's department supervised the installation for the county.

BEARCATS TROUNCE GUYS DRUGS, WIN LOOP PENNANT

By TONY ROGERS

Frank Romero fanned 11 batters and yielded but five hits last Sunday as his Bearcat teammates won the East Oakland Winter League championship here, with a decisive 10-0 victory over Guy's Drugs.

It was Romero's seventh pitching win, and the tenth without a defeat in league play for Joe Dutra's team.

While Romero was handcuffing the druggist team, the 'Cats enjoyed a steady stream of base-hits off three visiting hurlers. Their biggest inning was the sixth, when five tallies crossed the plate.

In season averages, Don Lemos turned out to be the 'Cats' leading slugger, with a .363 average. Jess Jacinto followed with .333, and Romero himself was third with .326.

In other season marks, Jacinto scored the most runs, 18; Stan Roderick batted in the most, 16; Ed Romero stole 12 bases, and Frank Romero struck out 88 men in his seven wins.

Score by innings:

Hairbreadth Huskies Take Menlo

In a breath-taking almost anti-climax finish, Husky cagers edged Menlo Hi Tuesday night, 60-59, off Gordon Agrella's free throw in the last second of play.

While the local fans held their breath in the Washington gym, Menlo's center, Peterson, then missed a chance to win the thriller when he muffed a pair of free throws himself. Peterson had been fouled as the game ended after Agrella's shot.

The non-league contest seesawed from start to finish. Raul Orozco was highpoint man for the Huskies with 15 tallies. Star Guard Allan Olk was benched with the flu. Bill Hoever, a tremendous pivot forward, tanked 26 for Menlo.

The Washington Bs lost, 27-24, to a Menlo lightweight five.

The Mountain View Eagles picked up their second win. They trounced the Live Oak Acorns, 82-49.

The Fremont-Santa Clara contest was cancelled due to a flu epidemic hampering both of the schools.

Safeway Parking

Safeway's store in Centerville will have a new parking lot accomodating another 34 cars, when clearing operations are complete next week.

Manager James Browne said the 75-foot lot, purchased by Safeway two years ago, will be used to augment present parking space due to growth of trade.

Giant bulldozers last Thursday scooped up an ancient house on the site and pushed it to the rear of the lot, where the debris was burned.

Say you saw it in The Register.

HOMEOWNERS QUARRY REQUEST ROUSES NILES

Homeowners along Duarte Avenue, northwest of Niles along the Hayward Highway, reported today they are aroused over reports a redrock quarry behind their homes plans to extend its operations.

The quarry is owned by Thomas B. Russell of Hayward. Russell has applied to the County Planning Commission to expand the quarry, but terms of the request are not clear to the Duarte Avenue-rs.

Says Mrs. J. A. Silva:

"We want to know what he intends to do... Several of us went to the planning commission hearing in Oakland two weeks ago, and were told it merely means scraping off part of the hill on the highway side, to make it level.

"But that isn't what the petition says. It says 'extend operations,' and we don't want to enlarge the eyesore that's already there."

Russell was unavailable for comment this week, but presumably would make his wishes known at a postponed hearing on February 15.

Mrs. Silva added that excavations in the quarry to the south and east already have caused cave-ins on hillside property owned by John E. Furtado.

The Niles Chamber of Commerce took note of Russell's request on Tuesday, but tabled action on the issue pending further information.

GLENMOOR NEWS ITEMS

By VIRGINIA CLARK

THE SOCIAL STUDIES group from Hayward High School will visit Glenmoor Gardens next Tuesday. B. K. Pennington and John Cortner will conduct the class through unfinished homes so that they may study the various phases of construction. Proud homeowners here will agree that the class could have no finer construction examples to study!

MRS. ROSE SIATT, 358 Sterling Court, telephone 8-8551, is still short at least two contract-bridge players. Mrs. W. C. Wootton has joined the group. How about it, ladies, won't you join the fun?

PARENTS of school-age children are vitally interested in knowing when the Glenmoor Gradens School will be built. Tom Maloney, principal of the Centerville Elementary School, says that local school authorities are awaiting the decision from the State Allocation Board, Department of Finance. The board is studying the question of whether to rehabilitate the cafeteria building at the downtown school site or to go ahead with the new school. If the board decides to rehabilitate the cafeteria building to provide extra classrooms, work should begin very soon. If, however, the cafeteria is abandoned, construction should begin on the Glenmoor School in another four or five months. Maloney states that the Board of Trustees has been working to expedite the above-mentioned decision and to see that adequate school facilities are provided before the beginning of the next school year.

MR. and MRS. JOHN ZARRICK were feted at a second housewarming party on January 24. According to the Zarricks, their house-guest, Mrs. Roseline Serpa, was the chief conspirator for the surprist party and about seventeen friends from San Leandro were the willing accomplices. Housewarming gifts included tablecloths, towel sets, bath ensemble, lamp post for the front yard and a camellia plant.

DECOTO OPPOSES REORGANIZATION

Decoto's Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night voted against accepting the revamped Township Chamber bylaws proposed recently by the Snow Committee.

Decotoans commented the open-membership provisions would mean "strangulation" for them. They instructed their delegates to cast a "no" vote for the proposed changes at the Township meeting February 25.

Members also urged Frank Borghi Jr. to run for the board of high school trustees. Borghi was a candidate last year.

Big Tract Will Have Sidewalks

The 1500-home Conway & Culligan tract south of Irvington will be developed with city-type streets and lots, a Planning Commission spokesman assured the Irvington Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

John Jay Thomas, planning director, in a letter answering protests against reported sidewalkless subdivisions south of town, said Conway & Culligan's inquiry concerns another projected tract —this one on 60 acres across the highway from its 1500-home site.

Tht chamber had protested Architect Guy L. Rosebrook's query to the commission. Rosebrook asked about reducing street sizes from 50 to 20 feet and leaving out curbs, sidewalks and gutters so that his firm could enlarge lot sizes to 10,000 square feet with the money saved.

President Wallace Pond of the Irvington body referred the issue to William Humpert, of the chamber's planning committee for further report.

PLEAS FAIL, CRASH PRODUCES SIGNS

A recent auto crash this week brought what the Centerville Chamber of Commerce has sought in vain—stop signs at Baine and Blacow Roads.

The chamber was turned down several months ago by the office of County Engineer Wallace Boggs, with the explanation that the intersection was not sufficiently travelled to warrant the signs.

However, on Monday, Secretary LeRoy Broun said he received word from Boggs that because of the recent accident there, signs will shortly be posted on Blacow, making Baine a through street.

ZONING PLEAS GO BEFORE PLANNERS

Protective zoning for three Township communities moved closer this week.

County Planning Commissioners ordered their staff to present zoning requests from Niles, Centerville and Mission San Jose "at the earliest meeting possible" so that hearing dates may be set.

Planning Director John Jay Thomas said the presentations probably will be made next week, if the commission agenda permits.

Thomas said the next step will be to hold official hearings in Oakland before the issues are referred to the Supervisors with commission recommendation for final action.

However, the commission has indicated that if local committees request, hearings also may be held in the towns affected.

"This is an opportunity for new home owners to get a chance to plan a garden under expert direction," says Principal Jud Taylor

"What am I bid?" and "Going, Going, GONE!" echoed through the sixth grade classroom at Centerville School last week—and the traditional auctioneers's cries netted $21.45 for the March of Dimes.

Youngsters headed by Louise Fleury staged a "white elephant" auction, and raised that much for the drive by selling unwanted articles from their homes.

"Everything went, from marbles and comic books to perfume," reports Louise.

If some of those belligerent mothers I've been hearing about would stop trying to dictate school policy, and instead attend P.T.A. or Mothers' Club meetings, they could get more done with less ill feeling.

SHERIFF URGES HOME DISASTER PLAN

"Only one-fifth of our people have done anything to make their home safer in the event of attack."

Urging a family disaster program in each household, Sheriff H. P. Gleason cited this finding today from a recent survey by the National Civil Defense Administration.

Gleason, who is also Alameda County Civil Defense director, further declared the same survey revealed that less than one half of the people living in critical target areas such as Alameda County know what to do after an attack.

"Regular family emergency drills signaled by a practice alert are an excellent idea for every home in this area," Gleason said. "Even though no bombs may ever fall here, no community is immune from natural disaster. The same rules apply as in man-caused catastrophes.

"Saving lives and property in the home under disaster conditions takes careful planning in advance by each family."

Major disaster insurance outlined by Gleason includes: (1) preparing a home shelter if you live within ten miles of the metropolitan target are; (2) preparing an emergency plan of action when an alert sounds, including disconnecting electrical and gas appliances, closing outside doors and covering windows, and tuning in the radio to Conelrad channels 640 or 1240.

Householders should also learn the principles of fire fighting and first aid emergency action to save lives, Gleason said. Emergency food and water supplies should also be kept in readiness.

GOODBYE—Tanya Pekota, 5, and her brother, Zane, 6, 250 Stenhammer Drive, Niles, bid farewell to their pet, "Wolf," who left last week for training course as blind guide dog. At right is Mrs. John Eshleman, official of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., which trains the intelligent animals to be a second pair of "eyes" for blind persons. (Register Photo)

Niles Youngsters Donate Pet as Guide Dog for Blindness Victims

By STUART NIXON

There was a little farewell ceremony the other day in Canyon Heights.

Wolf was going off to training school.

"Goodbye, Wolf," said Tanya Pekota, 5, putting her arms around her friend's neck. Tanya's brother, Zane, 6, struggled hard not to look sad.

The children were bidding farewell to their pet and companion of the past year, Wolf, a powerful, intelligent German shepherd.

Wolf is going into service. He is going to become a guide dog for some blind person.

Mrs. John Eshleman, field worker for Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., took Wolf away to San Rafael, where he will be put through a hard course designed to teach him how to be a second pair of eyes for someone — perhaps a wounded veteran, or the victim of an accident.

Guide Dogs for the Blind was started in 1942, and by the end of 1953 it had graduated 327 dogs —and their new masters, for each blind person must take a course with the dog who is to lead him.

Wolf was chosen when Tanya and Zane's mother, who lives at 250 Stenhammer Drive, responded to an appeal for dogs to train. Wolf's aunt, his mother's sister, was a guide dog in the East, and Mrs. Pekota figured he'd take to the job quickly.

Normally guide dogs are chosen when they are three months old. The organization prefers German Shepherds and Labrador Retriever pups. They are farmed out to "foster homes," often to the homes of 4-H Clubbers who take them as a project. There they learn to get along with humans, to be well-adjusted and friendly.

Then they get three months of basic-obedience training, and a final month with their new master.

Guide Dogs help their new masters to be self-supporting. More than 90 per cent of the blind who own these resourceful animals now are earning their own living.

But it costs $1500 apiece to train the dogs, and Guide Dogs on February 1 will start its annual campaign in this area to support the 11-acre school at San Rafael, and the entire program.

Heading the local drive is Mrs. James Whipple of Niles.

"We need funds to carry on this fine work," she says. "And we also need foster homes for puppies so they can become fine dogs like Wolf."

California's highways are littered with cans, bottles, paper and other trash. Help clean them up and keep them clean. Don't throw trash from your car.

Pallets to L. A.

Newark's Bulldog Pallet Co. this week announced that for the first time a Northern California concern is shipping pallets to Los Angeles, as the local industry sold several carloads to a brewery there.

According to R. M. Duff, president, Bulldog was materially aided in cracking the Southern California market by its new patented fastener, which is claimed to be stronger and cheaper than nails or bolts.

THE COOPERATORS

In this queer 1954-style world, Americans find themselves experiencing new pangs of doubt and disturbance as the story of the pro-Communist GIs unfolds.

Twenty-one soldiers have gone to Red China, convinced that Communism is the better way. Two came home, and one of them will be disciplined, the Army announces, for accepting favors from his Red captors in exchange for "cooperation."

Of the story's different endings, frustrated patriots find the second harder to understand. Why, we may ask, does the Army want to make an example of the black sheep who returned to the fold? Why should the Marines plan to courtmartial a colonel who "confessed" germ warfare? Both men maintain they "cooperated" only to gain time for their fellow-prisoners; that they were in effect playing renegade with the hostiles until the Calvary came over the horizon.

The answer, it seems, is that the services won't buy their story. In the case of the twice-turncoat GI, he is accused of switching allegiance to win comforts for himself. And the colonel, it is said, "confessed" when other prisoners held out against the same hardships he suffered.

The accused men have sympathy on their side, and it may be true that the human will to resist grows weak after brain-washing. But both subjects are servicemen. They hired out to be tough. Their prison-mates held out, and so should they.

If the corporal sold out for a plate of rice, he should not go unpunished. If the colonel lacked the required moral fibre, he should find other employment. War puts a heavy burden on our defences, and there is no place for weak links in our chain.

BASKETBALL'S BOYS

Townshippers can draw a prideful breath as they note the late progress of their high school basketball teams.

After a heartbreaking start, the Husky varsity yet kept its spirits high enough to overcome persistent bad luck, and now is in position to pull the season out of the fire with a dazzling finish against the league leaders.

The steady B team is leading the loop, and is a fair bet to cop it all in the next couple of weeks, its backers claim.

All hail, our cagers! The Township is behind you next Friday against formidable Campbell, and we'll stay behind you, win-or-lose, for the example of courage you've already shown us.

SCHOOL ELECTION IN NEWARK

Newark voters have a chance to strike a blow for better education Tuesday when they go to the polls to express their opinions on a $200,000 bond issue and the matter of accepting $450,000 in State aid.

Newark's school is overcrowded by 50 per cent now, only a year after it was finished. New industries brought new homes, and each home brought a child or two. These in turn brought double sessions. The need for new school housing cannot be disputed.

The Newark School Board has recognized the need, and is moving swiftly to meet it. It needs the voters' help. The $200,000 in bonds won't build the schoolrooms Newark needs, but it will unthaw more than twice that sum in State assistance. That, coupled with the bonds, will do the job.

A town that recognizes the fact that its responsibilities tie into its chance at greatness, Newark will give the bonds and State aid the "yes" vote they deserve. Newark knows well what its greatest asset is: its youngsters. Newark will not fail them.

QUARESMA WON'T SEEK SCHOOL TERM

Decision of Judge E. A. Quaresma, chairman of the Washington Hi trustees, not to seek re-election next May, today tossed his single trustee job into a wide-open race.

Quaresma said press of business will prevent him from seeking the post he has held for the past term.

Deadline for filing is in March. Other trustees will not be required to run this year.

DUNN QUITS SEAT

Assemblyman Francis Dunn Jr., serving his sixth term in the 13th Assembly District, which includes Washington Township, this week announced he will not be a candidate for re-election this year, but instead will seek the Supervisorial seat vacated by George Janssen of Hayward.

Ed Robey, East Oakland and Hayward real estate dealer, announced today that he will be a candidate for election as the assemblyman from the 13th Assembly District.

NOMINATING GROUP

Named to a committee to nominate officers for the coming term in the Centerville Chamber of Commerce this week were Harry Weber, Eugene Manning and Joe Shepherd. Pres. Romeo Brunelli told the committee to report next Monday.

Editor, Sir:

In your issue of January 28, 1954, in an article entitled "Parry Sues Niles Fire Commission to See Records," you state that "Jack Parry . . . today sued the Niles Fire Commission in an attempt to force them to disclose their financial records to him."

While this Board has no intention of entering into a published discussion of the many unfounded criticisms made against it by Mr. Parry, it felt compelled, lest its silence be construed as an admission against interest, to make the following comments:

1. At no time has this Board refused to permit anyone access to any of its records;

2. The records of this Board may be inspected by any person during its business hours at the Fire House, 635 Second Street, Niles, California;

3. This Board regularly meets at the Fire House on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m.; the next meeting will be held next Tuesday, February 9, 1954. The public and the press are invited and encouraged to attend these meetings;

4. This Board does not exercise any jurisdiction over the members of the volunteer firemen. It does appoint the Fire Chief, who is consequently responsible to the Board; but the members themselves are responsible only to the Fire Chief—not to the Board.

Respectfully submitted,
A. M. ALVES
LEON A. SOLON
JOHN BRAHMST
Board of Fire Commissioners of Niles Fire Protection District.

Editor, Sir:

Speaking on behalf of the Board of Directors and the Seal Sale Committee of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association, may I express to you our very deep gratitude for the excellent coverage given our 1953 Christmas Seal Sale and for your fine cooperation with Mr. Edward Enos, our local Seal Sale chairman.

For the second year in a row the Christmas Seal Sale has shown a very significant increase which will permit us to continue and intensify our programs of case finding, public education, research and patient rehabilitation. An analysis of our returns shows that Niles and its surrounding areas in Washington Township have again made proportionately large increases in returns compared to other local areas. Much of this we know is due to your wonderful support and to the public spirit which you have shown in supporting this campaign.

Very truly yours,
E. W. SAMUEL
Seal Sale Chairman.

JUNIOR CHAMBER MAY FORM HERE

Washington Township may get a junior chamber of commerce if plans announced Monday in Centerville by an Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce representative go through.

Doug Carmody, county engineer aide, who lives in Orchard Park, said he has been delegated to start a junior group here.

Carmody said he will call a meeting soon at his home to discuss the plan with eligible young Townshippers.

OUR READERS WRITE . . .

(Open Letter)
Board of Fire Commissioners
Niles Fire District
Niles, California.

Gentlemen:

I regret very much that your deliberate action of Thursday, January 21, 1954 and your behavior in September of 1953 forces me to write you this public message.

Despite warnings and with full knowledge of the intent of Govt. Code 54953-54056, you met at the Firestation on January 21st, without public notice, to discuss public Fire Department business. No matter what form this meeting followed, or why and how it was called, you by gathering as Fire Commissioners expressed your defiance of State law or its intent. At this meeting an even more serious wrong was committed when in an effort to bolster your very weak position regarding the hiring of full time paid firemen you brought into a controversial issue the Volunteer Firemen. The morale of such a group of men, at its best, is an extremely sensitive thing and I cannot believe that a supposedly intelligent group of men would deliberately gamble with the effectiveness of these fire fighters. You, the Fire Commissioners, must set a policy for the Fire District and I without knowledge of the Volunteers' feelings in this matter concede to you that all volunteer firemen feel the hiring of full-time paid firemen is desirable. They, of course, as individuals have the privilege of entering the disagreement if they wish.

On Tuesday, September 1, 1953 I telephoned a member of your board asking to attend the September 8th meeting. He replied that perhaps the holidays would interfere with the holding of this meeting. I then told him I would go to the Firestation September 8th and if they weren't there, would see them in October. I did go to the Firestation that evening to attend your meeting and as you well know, no one was there. On September 15th, in answer to a direct question, I was told in the presence of all of you and your Fire Chief that no meeting was held on September 8th because of the holidays. Your Fire Chief also reported to the Firemen that the Board did not hold a business meeting in September. Meetings, for the sake of convenience, had been held in other places in the past but in this instance your denials concerning the meeting leads me to believe this was planned evasive action which prevented me from exercising my rights as a citizen and taxpayer. Your minutes now show that this meeting was held at the home of one of your members.

In fairness to Commissioner Brahmst it must be stated that he was away on a trip on September 8th and upon his return and after a personal talk with me did take immediate action to comply with the laws governing meetings of Boards and Commissions.

You, as public servants whether paid or unpaid must be men of integrity and must have respect for laws and their intent, for everyone should strenuously demand that our government at every level be for and by the people. I therefore suggest you rid yourselves of the member or members of the Board whose influence caused such irresponsible actions. This can be accomplished by submitting resignations to the Board of Supervisors and recommending replacement by men whose aim will be to keep the cost of good government and its services at a minimum.

Sincerely yours,
JACK PARRY

Editor, Sir:

I would like to give you some of the background on your item in last week's paper on the "antics" of the "three bears," for there are some very serious implications in this incident, not only for me personally, but for the whole Township. I feel that the paper, in treating this matter somewhat gaily, has not helped a situation in which many homeowners find themselves hereabouts, and which is rapidly becoming worse. Knowing your real zeal for betterment and your great interest in the welfare of the Township, I think it a good idea to give you further information.

First: for me personally, after 22 years of previous security, this is the fourth such incident in four years, the last two within three weeks of each other; in each case the work of boys, in two cases of boys already delinquent and on probation, both of whom are now in jail for subsequent more serious offenses. During this same three-week period, our local service station operator was twice beaten and robbed by teenage boys. In each of these four cases of mine, the sheriff's office has been most efficient, and save in the last, upon which they are still at work, they have caught the offenders.

With the exception of two who are eighteen and who are now both in jail, the boys have been seventeen or younger and have been let off very lightly by the probation office. Such leniency makes the sheriff's task doubly difficult as the offenses are being constantly repeated. The boy, mentioned on page 1 in the same number of your paper with "The Three Bears" (of whom more anon), is the same boy who was the ringleader of the robbery at my place preceding the "bears"—the boy who very soon afterwards broke into the Newark office and forged checks. When caught by the sheriff after the job at my place, this boy, 18, and on probation, was the subject of a disagreement at that time between the officer and the probation office, the sheriff's officer believing the boy should be turned over to the adult authorities but yielding with reluctance to the request of the probation officer to leave him to them.

They, it appears on my enquiry, administered only a mild reprimand; two weeks or so later the boy is caught again, in a more serious offense. Which was right? My information leads to the impression that this problem of juvenile delinquency here in the Township is being rapidly increased by the leniency of the probation office. Without naming names, it seems to me you might stress that the problem is growing here, and that there is a need and a public demand for sterner measures.

Now, as to these four raids on my premises by boys: in every case there was forced entry involving considerable damage (bashing in of doors, windows and locked cabinets) and very considerable expense for repairs; pilfering of drawers, closets and cupboards; this is burglary and robbery, not to be considered lightly under any circumstances. As for the "bears," their damage will cost me about $100, and they very nearly set my house afire, having brought indoors a storage can of gasoline with which they intended apparently to fuel a coaloil stove. The kitchen was a shambles of burned papers and general mess from bungling operations on the coal range. It appears to be sheer luck that anything is left of the place at all.

You will, I trust, gather from a consideration of the foregoing that a real problem does exist and that a more serious approach is in order. Other persons here in Mission San Jose tell me of similar experiences of finding their homes damaged and entered, usually by teenage boys, and they also feel with me that too little is being done about it. When I discovered that there had been no punishment for the older boy and the two 17-year-olds for what they had done at my place, I went myself to their homes to insist they should pay the cost of the damage and theft. This I was encouraged to do by the sheriff's office. After catching such boys, they have no further jurisdiction; they are helpless in checking the spread of the problem when punishment by the probation office is so inadequate.

The "bears" who broke into my place are, as I said, still being searched for by the sheriffs, and if they are found I intend to see that they are punished. Leniency leads only to the further deterioration of the boy; and so, I believe, does the printing in a newspaper of a playful view of such incidents, which are of serious import not only to property owners but to the entire Township.

I trust you will make some use of this information in urging effective punishment for teenage lawbreakers, for under the present policy of leniency such instances are rapidly becoming more frequent and more serious.

Sincerely,
MARGARET M. McCLURE
Mission San Jose.
